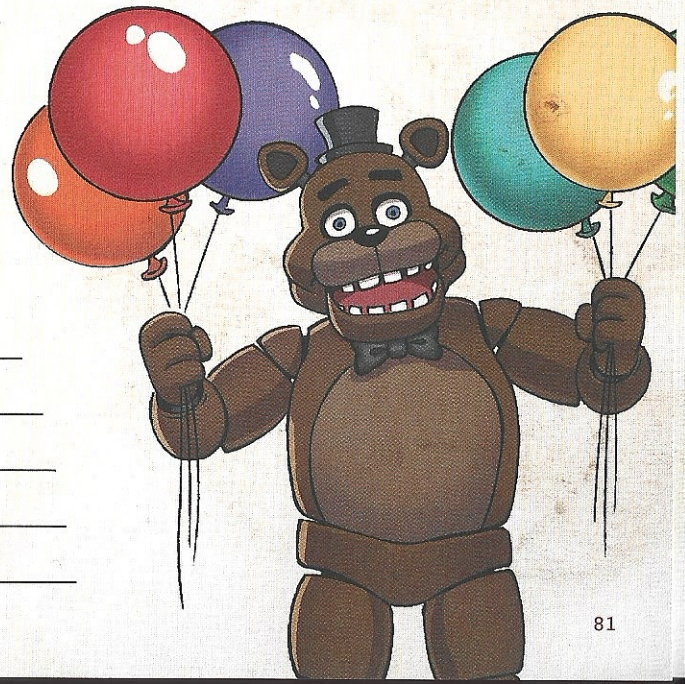
Switching to the Day Shift

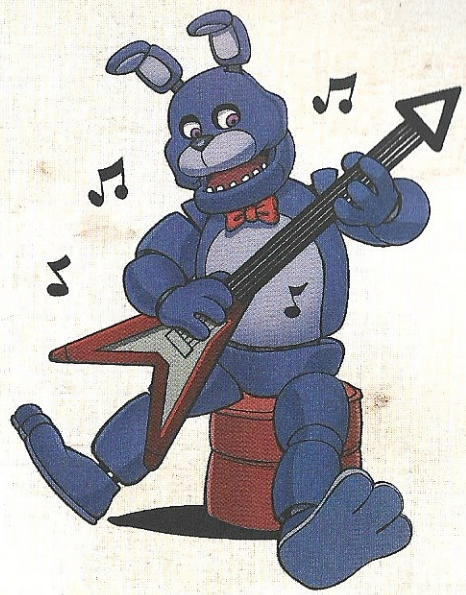
Flex your creative muscles by writing your own short story in the space below. You can use this starting prompt to kick your imagination into high gear.

I'd only been on night shift for about a week, but I was so relieved to be switched over to the day shift. There's a lot of stress working 12 a.m.–6 a.m. My boss had told me that the animatronics were acting strangely—almost aggressive toward the staff—but I wasn't about to let that scare me off. After work I had an unsettling feeling that I was being followed home . . .



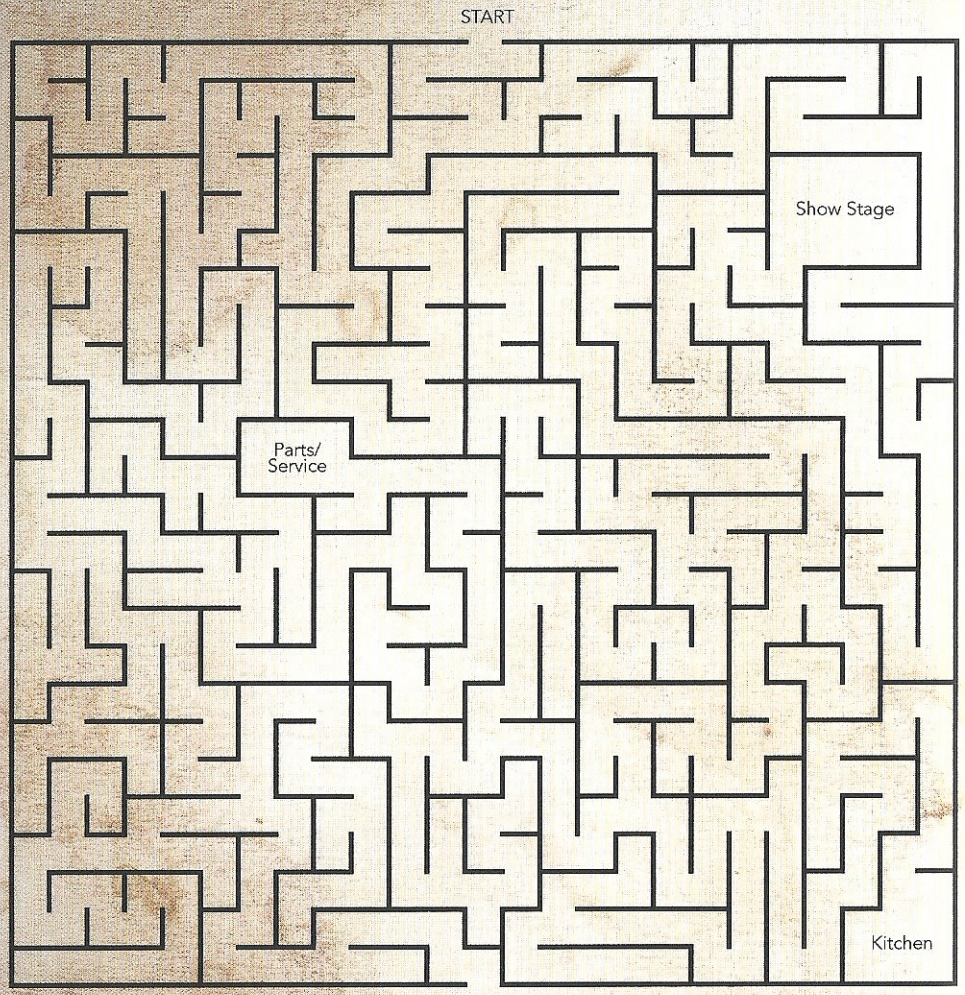
Keep the creativity going by writing a new song for Freddy and his friends to perform.

Now that you have the song down, draw the animatronics moving to the beat!



IS THIS SONG FAMILIAR TO YOU?

Can you navigate the maze below to get to the safe room?



Freddy Fazbear's Pizza is committed to family fun, and above all—safety! By now we're sure you have our Rules for Safety memorized, but are there any that you would add to the list?

When a PR disaster strikes, it's always good to have a plan. Think of alternate explanations to these common misunderstandings.

"My child said Freddy bit him!"

He tripped and fell on Freddy's teeth. Not our fault.

"That animatronic is filthy and oozing liquid!"

"My child went missing in your pizzeria!"

"My pizza has mold on it."

Pretend you're an architect and imagine the optimal layout for a Freddy Fazbear's Pizza. Draw it here.
